

Honeybee Swarms

Do you have a Swarm of honeybees in your yard and want to have them removed? Please do not kill them. The Beekeepers on this list have agreed to help you relocate them. We remove the honeybees and relocate them to a new apiary. No bees will be harmed.

Pictures of the insect and a description of the location are very helpful when contacting the beekeeper. This will help determine if it is in fact a honeybee or a different insect that may require the removal someone other than a beekeeper. It will also help the beekeeper know what type of equipment will be needed for the removal.

Removing honeybees from unwanted locations inside walls, rafter or inside chimneys is NOT something we can accommodate at this time. However, we can recommend other local beekeeping clubs who can remove such nest. If the bees are located at a site where more elaborate equipment is needed to reach them, or enclosed in walls or other structures, you can expect a fee. Some beekeepers are licensed contractors and some work with contractors. You may need to have your own contractor repair the wall or any structural components damaged in the removal process.
